No Indication Of Liquor Release

OTTAWA (CP)—Expectations in certain quarters that liquor restrictions would be removed soon after the federal election have not been borne out by developments.

There is no indication here as yet that the government proposes to move in this matter although there is an assumption action will be taken before many months elapse.

Police Closing In On Escaped Convicts

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police today were closing in on three convicts sought since their escape from the penitentiary here last week.

The men, still wearing prison garb, were seen in the bush country 15 miles southeast of here early today, leaving a trail on which police dogs were put to work.

Vancouver Given Camp for Housing

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Headquarters has given the Vancouver Housing Administrator sanction to take over huts and other buildings of Camp 2 of the Canadian Army on Vancouver's Sea Island for conversion into private dwellings to help ease the Pacific Coast city's critical housing shortage; it was learned here today.

U.S. Ace Gets D.F.C.

SAN FRANCISCO—Maj. Richard Ira Bong of Poplar, Wis., the U.S. No. 1 ace of this war, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by King George, according to a Melbourne broadcast.

The medal was presented by the Duke of Gloucester, Governor-General of Australia, the broadcast said, on behalf of the King.

60 Dairy Truck Tires Punctured

WINNIPEG (CP)—Twenty thousand people in Greater Winnipeg today went without a breakfast milk delivery because vandals had punctured the rubber tires on 60 wagons at the plant of the Crescent Creamery Co. Apparently they were jabbed with an ice pick. Police called it a "workmanlike job," possibly the work of a disgruntled, discharged employee.

Identify Wreck

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Daily Province said in a special dispatch from Chilliwack this afternoon that "reports, unconfirmed but from reliable sources," indicated that wreckage of an aircraft at the 7,400-foot level on Mount Foley has been identified as the Liberator bomber which disappeared with its crew of 11 members of the R.A.F. while on a routine flight June 1. The paper added that officials at Western Air Command would make no comment.

"It was believed several Chilliwack mountaineers, who set out on an unofficial expedition may have brought back the information," the dispatch said.

Okinawa Campaign Over, Says Nimitz

Truman Supports Highway Through B.C. To Alaska

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—President Truman today came out flatly in favor of the postwar completion of the Alaska Highway, in co-operation with British Columbia and Canada.

He said there is about 600 miles of road to complete. Mr. Truman at his first press conference since he left the White House, said he had talked with the Governor of Alaska and Senator Warren Magnuson (Dem., Wash.), and discussed extension of the highway through "the trench."

There is a 600-mile gap to be finished, he said, and it is absolutely essential that it be considered as part of a postwar program in which Canada and British Columbia will participate.

He said he would try to find way to complete it in co-operation with Canada and British Columbia. It was a good project, he added, and he would support it. The President said Gen. Eisenhower, Commander of Allied forces in Europe, was entitled to anything he wants, and that he would see that the general gets it. He did not elaborate on this remark, made in reply to a reporter's question on his plans for the general.

The President, in response to a question, said the administration was working toward a plan of single control over prices and food in the U.S., but he did not disclose how it would function. He denied reports he contemplated removing Harold L. Ickes, Interior Secretary.

Pay Tribute to Fallen Canadian Heroes

Marking the first anniversary of D-Day, Canadian soldiers and French civilians gathered on beaches near Bernieres-sur-Mer, France, to pay homage to the men of the 3rd Canadian Infantry Division who died there in the great assault a year ago, part of the initial operations which opened the way for the final victory over Germany last month. There was a service on the beach, conducted by Hon. Maj. F. G. Guy, chaplain. The picture above shows the Canadian Military Cemetery near the beaches, with the names of Canadian soldiers plainly visible on the plain white crosses.

22,000 Navy Men for Pacific Area

OTTAWA (CP)—A total of 22,000 men will man and reinforce Canada's 80-ship fleet in the Pacific battle area, it was learned reliably today after announcement by Navy Minister Abbott that 32,000 men already had volunteered for combat duty.

A complement of 13,500 will be necessary to fight the ships, and another 8,500 will be held in reserve. Mr. Abbott said that total naval personnel target for the war against Japan was 37,000 men, thus indicating 15,000 will be needed to serve in Canada in administrative and instructional capacities.

Surplus volunteers for combat duty—10,000—will be posted to home establishments, and the remainder required, 5,000, will be selected from a pool of nonvolunteers. Mr. Abbott said the volunteer total was 35 per cent of the total strength of the navy.

"Now that manning of the Pacific Fleet has been organized, the R.C.N. is in a position to commence demobilization of surplus men at top speed. No one will be delayed in his release one moment longer than the rapidly diminishing requirements dictate.

"Everything possible is being done to cater to the wishes of the man with the longest period of service in line with the announced policy of first-in-first-out.

"Recruiting for the navy's permanent force will be continued on a moderate scale. Call-up for the Volunteer Reserve will be suspended during the period in which the reallocation of manpower for the Pacific Fleet is in progress, but will be resumed if the need dictates. In this respect only applications from those who volunteer for service in the Far East will be considered."

Attempt to Save Small Tanker Off Point Grey

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 75-foot tanker the Shellco, was reported sinking this morning off Point Grey about six miles outside Vancouver Harbor after a serious leak developed during a gale in the Gulf of Georgia and the ship's pumps were unable to keep up with the inflow of sea water.

Salvage tugs, a Royal Navy ship and a 200-foot tanker raced to the rescue of the crew of eight to 10 men. The Shellco, owned by the Shell Oil Co. of B.C., was taken in tow by several tugs, but the tanker's stern was awash and seas were rolling across the deck. It was not known whether the Shellco would reach port. The crew remained aboard.

Two other mishaps were reported after the sudden gale had struck the Gulf of Georgia. The tug Point Hope with a Home Oil barge in tow was reported to be in trouble off the Fraser River sandheads. A U.S. boat, the Spearhead, was reported to be in difficulties off Point Grey.

Junkers Reveal New Facts On War

PARIS (AP)—An Intelligence officer of Allied Supreme Headquarters who questioned Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl and other high German officers, said today German armies were under orders to invade Great Britain for three months after the fall of France, the plans finally being canceled as too hazardous.

The interrogation of Jodl and others of the German general staff disclosed the high command had guessed the place, strength and approximate date of the Allied invasion of France, but could not press Gen. Eisenhower's forces back into the sea.

Division of Tax Revenues Question For Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—The main practical problem of the Dominion-Provincial conference, now called to meet here Aug. 6, is to work out arrangements whereby the tax revenues of Canada can be equitably and efficiently divided between the Dominion and Provincial governments.

RECONSTRUCTION PLANS

In addition to the main job, but inter-related with it, is the problem of working out and agreeing on joint plans for post-war reconstruction, full employment and social security.

90,000 Japanese Killed; Stilwell Given Command

GUAM (AP)—End of the Okinawa campaign was announced today by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz 82 days after U.S. 10th Army troops invaded the island 325 miles south of Japan.

Admiral Nimitz' special communique announcing successful completion of the campaign in which more than 90,000 enemy troops were killed or captured, came within an hour after Lt.-Gen. Stilwell was named to take over command of the 10th Army in future operations.

The text of Admiral Nimitz' brief communique read:

"After 82 days of fighting the Battle of Okinawa has been won. Organized resistance ceased June 21. Enemy garrisons in two small pockets are being mopped up."

The official ending of fighting fulfilled the prediction of Lt.-Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, 10th Army commander who was killed while watching 8th Regiment Marines drive to the southern edge of the island Monday.

Lt.-Gen. J. W. Stilwell.

FIGHT TO THE LAST

Japanese fought stubbornly to the last although they were running out of ammunition, food and water. They employed machine guns, rifles and mortars to the fullest while the U.S. forces relied on flame-throwing tanks, demolition charges and automatic weapons.

Meanwhile on Borneo, Australian forces have made a new landing, this time at the northern head of Brunel Bay to give them control of "the shores bordering both entrances into the bay." Headquarters announced today.

In the Philippines, a force of possibly 30,000 Japanese was herded north up the Cagayan Valley today by onrushing infantry columns who were bent on adding them to the more than 400,000 enemy casualties on the Luzon Peninsula.

U.S. Army and Navy planes lashed at Japanese bases and shipping for more than 1,500 miles from Hongkong to Japan itself in operations reported today.

Headquarters reported another in the daily series of attacks by heavy bombers on the oil centre of Balikpapan on Borneo's east coast, but still said nothing concerning repeated enemy broadcasts to go once they reach that northernmost city of Luzon.

The Japanese in the Philippines were falling back on Aparri, a scant 100 miles ahead of advance patrols, with nowhere to go once they reach that northernmost city of Luzon.

On the west side of the Cagayan River, which splits the valley, the Igorots and other Filipino guerrillas waited in long-prepared positions to frustrate any Japanese attempt to find refuge among the wild, spiny ridges of the Cordillera Mountains.

Tokio Radio Warns of Invasion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tokyo radio reported southern Japan was scouted for two hours today by 56 assorted aircraft gathering data for further bombing attacks.

Report of the strange reconnoitring expeditions over most of Kyushu Island and the southern tip of Honshu came at the end of a series of Tokyo broadcasts telling of U.S. carrier attacks, invasion preparations, Superfort successes and Okinawa fighting.

These broadcasts said: Wake Island was raided Wednesday by 300 Allied carrier planes.

The United States already has started long and complicated preparations to invade Japan.

B-29s Wednesday cut rail traffic for many hours between two fire-bombed cities southwest of Tokyo.

Allied minesweepers swept mines out of waters of Balikpapan, eastern Borneo, for the second day. (An English language version of the broadcast, in which the Japanese translator apparently stumbled over the languages, said they were laying mines.)

Developments have convinced the Home Affairs Ministry it is a mistake for Japan to have cities as big as Tokyo and Osaka—and there should be more space between houses.

Among these reports, the one speculating on the next United States move after Okinawa pointedly was for U.S. consumption. Beamed in English, the Demel Agency account quoted Tokyo "informed" quarters—as saying invasion of Japan was next in the cards—then sprinkled in liberally talk about the "task of building bases," the "vastness" of the supply problem and America's geographic disadvantages.

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi said "preliminary operations for landing on Japan proper are perceived" in newly inaugurated Superfort raids on smaller industrial cities.

Cpl. James Drummond, R.C.E., who joined the army at war's outbreak was greeted by his wife and 14-year-old daughter, Joan, whom he had not seen for five and a half years. Cpl. Drummond saw action in France, Belgium, Germany and Holland. His home is at 633 Admirals Road.

Veteran of the 1st Division who left Canada in 1939, Sgt. Douglas Clark, R.C.E.M.E., was met by his wife, Dorothy, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Oakley, Epworth Street. Sgt. Clark served in Sicily, Italy and the western front. His wife was with the air force.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bickford, 44 Menzies Street, welcomed their son, Gnr. W. E. Bickford of the 5th Anti-Tank Regiment, who went overseas more than five years ago. He is a veteran of the western front having fought from Caen to Oldenburg, Germany.

Prof. Laski Accused Of Urging Revolt, Sues for Libel

LONDON (CP) — Professor Harold Laski, a former lecturer at McGill University, Montreal, has become the central figure in Conservative-Labor jockeying for votes in the British general election campaign.

The Daily Express and the Daily Telegraph, the staunchest supporters of Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative Party among London morning newspapers, gave top front-page space Wednesday to a report that Prof. Laski, chairman of the Labor Party, advocated use of violence if necessary to achieve a socialist state in Britain.

Prof. Laski denied the story and the Daily Herald and the Mirror, which back the Labor Party, gave similar prominence to the denial and to the professor's statement he is planning libel actions against the man who wrote the letter containing the charge to the Nottingham Guardian and against the Guardian, which first published it.

The latest sensation in the campaign—the second involving Prof. Laski within a week—put into the background criticism of Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born peer who up to now had a prominent place as whipping boy for the Labor press and Labor spokesmen.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express used a six-column headline "Socialism even if it means violence," over a reproduction of the letter from H. C. C. Carlton of East Leake as published in the Guardian.

REPLIED TO QUESTION
The letter said Prof. Laski, when a member of his audience at a political meeting said: "You are inviting revolution from the platform," replied: "If we cannot

Scottish Officers Arrive

Red battle patch of the Canadian Scottish was a common sight when the mercy vessel Letitia reached Halifax last week-end. Standing on the hospital ship's deck are two officers of the celebrated Victoria unit, including a former commanding officer. Left to right: Lieut. Roland F. Campbell, Victoria, wounded at Caen, France, and at Emmerich, Germany, and Lt.-Col. D. G. Crofton, Salt Spring Island, who took command of the regiment Sept. 1, 1944, and was wounded in the right arm by a Nazi "bazooka" on the second day of the Kleve offensive.

get the reforms we desire we shall not hesitate to use violence, even if it means revolution."

The Labor Party chairman's denial in the Daily Herald said: "I did not even discuss in my speech the question he (Carlton) raises. I answered a question from the audience by insisting that changes could be secured here by consent instead of by violence as in other countries."

The party chairman said that in addition to the planned action against Mr. Carlton, and the Guardian: "I shall naturally take legal advice also about steps which may be necessary against other newspapers which have reprinted the letter with malicious intent."

Speaking at Dudley, Worcestershire, Wednesday night, Mr. Laski said that this morning he "took out a writ for libel against the gentleman who wrote to the Nottingham Guardian, against the editor and proprietors of the Daily Express."

Mr. Laski added: "The accusations levelled against me show a singular inability to understand the conditions upon which any man or woman in this country is permitted to be a member of the Labor Party."

The annual summer flower show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will open at Crystal Garden Friday afternoon at 2 and continue until Saturday evening. It is anticipated that the displays of all types of flowers will make the show a riot of color.

A special feature will be a number of the latest novelties and seedling roses which have been introduced to the Victoria district this year by Fred Taylor. Other non-competitive displays will consist of roses from the Layritz nurseries, begonias, both fibrous and pendula types by Donald Gurney; peonies and delphiniums from the Prospect Lake nurseries; delphiniums by Mrs. J. A. Hiberson and cacti and succulents by W. Goddard.

In the competitive classes will be entries in roses, sweet peas, delphiniums, peonies, iris and other flowers, as well as early fruits and vegetables, and the show promises to be up to its accepted high standard.

14th Army Occupies Paukaung in Burma

CALCUTTA (AP) — British 14th Army troops have occupied the village of Paukaung, 22 miles east of Brome, and fighter planes of the air command started several fires in an area believed to contain Japanese forces south of the village, southeast Asia, headquarters reported today.

In other air activities, heavy bombers dropped 32 tons of bombs on enemy troops in a wooded area south of Nokpalin on the Pegu-Martaban railway.

2 Torpedoes Miss Frigate Escorting Russian Convoy

Now at Esquimalt after her speedy 10,000-mile trip from Londonderry, Ireland, is H.M.C.S. Cape Breton, taking off stores this week before her tropical refit for service against Japan in the Pacific.

Built in Quebec, City Cape Breton was commissioned there Oct. 26, 1943. She proceeded to England where she joined Support Group E.G.6 in company with H.M.C.S. Waskesiu.

On D-Day the Cape Breton carried out anti-submarine patrols across the western entrance to the English Channel off Wolf Rock, and last September and October she travelled off the coast of Norway north of the Faroe Islands. She made one trip to Russia, where she called at Vanga about 10 miles north of Murmansk, and was one of a 32-ship escort of a 45-ship convoy back. Other Canadian ships in the escort were Waskesiu, "Grou" and Outremont.

ATTACKS BEATEN OFF
Attacks by a dozen German submarines on the convoy were beaten off with the loss of only one merchant vessel, and the Cape Breton narrowly escaped destruction herself when two torpedoes fired at her missed.

For three weeks before D-Day she was engaged in dress rehearsals for the invasion, and afterward operated in the Channel, first out of Plymouth, and then between Portsmouth and Cherbourg.

On her first day out after her refit in Shelburne, N.S., at the end of October last, the Breton sighted a U-boat off Halifax, but it dived. She then served in Bermuda waters.

She will leave here Friday for Vancouver where she will be air-conditioned, and otherwise made more serviceable for tropical sea warfare.

HALF CREW VOLUNTEERS

More than 50 per cent of her 153-man crew has volunteered Pacific service. The rest of her new crew will be made up from other volunteers.

Lt.-Cmdr John C. L. Annesley, R.C.N., 27-year-old commander of Toronto, joined ship in January during her last refitting, and was with her when she sailed from Newfoundland on V.E. Day for Londonderry. Lt.-Cmdr. Annesley, who has been in the navy for 10 years, visited Victoria in 1937 aboard H.M.S. Exeter when he was still training.

H.M.C.S. Cape Breton is his first command. Before that he was a first lieutenant on three destroyers. In peacetime he served on H.M.C.S. Saguenay.

VICTORIANS ABOARD

Staff Officer is Lieut. J. E. V. Holmes, R.C.N.V.R., who lives at Ganges, Salt Spring Island. Lieut. Holmes, who went from the Waskesiu in February, is a brother of Capt. W. B. L. Holmes, R.C.N., formerly commander of H.M.C.S. Naden and now naval officer at the Canadian Legation in Washington, D.C.

Also members of the Cape Breton crew are: Yeoman of Signals John Mead, 2105 Vancouver Street, Signaller William Bean, 1322 Camosun Street, and L.S. D. Murdoch, Cresta Linda Apartments. Son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Murdoch, L.S. Murdoch has been away one and a half years, and served on the Breton 8 months. Service on Corvettes and mine sweepers occupied the rest of his four and a half years in the navy.

One of the first frigates built by the Canadian Navy, whose purpose was to have a faster and more powerful ship than a corvette, yet one that could be built more quickly than a destroyer for defence against the submarine, H.M.C.S. Cape Breton is popular with the men.

New Move for Road To Alaska Via B.C.

SEATTLE (AP) — The case for a land route to Alaska from the Pacific northwest will be presented before the Pacific coast section of the Council of State Governments, meeting in Portland Friday, by the Alaska highway committee of the governor's Advisory Commission on Progress and Industry Development, Kemper Freeman, committee member, said Tuesday.

Reasons why early construction of a road west of the Rockies to Alaska is important to all Pacific coast states will be given by Donald MacDonald, committeeman and former Alaska member of the Alaska International Highway Commission named by the late President Roosevelt.

The northwest "took it on the chin by not being united and on the job when the army Alcan route was chosen," committee chairman Kirby Billingsley of Wenatchee, said. "That is all the more reason why the Pacific coast states and British Columbia should unite for a genuine highway now."

Couldn't Build Better Ship; Had Best Crew—Draney

A number of Victorians are serving in H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert, now in Esquimalt Harbor undergoing refit for Pacific operations. The Prince Rupert, which was built at Yarrow and commissioned in 1943, had some hot engagements on the Atlantic and gathered in one German U-boat which won for her skipper, Lt.-Cmdr. D. Draney of New Westminster, the Distinguished Service Cross.

Of the complement of 155 crew members aboard, the majority are now on leave with wives and families. Work now underway to this fighting unit includes armament overhaul; installation of a new refrigeration system and water coolers, and repainting.

Among city and island men serving aboard is AB. Robert Erskine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Erskine, 1460 Tauton Street. The 21-year-old seaman is spending a portion of his leave in Montreal following a year's service with Rupert, and is expected to arrive here shortly.

With the navy five years in the volunteer reserve, Chief ERA. John English, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. English, Nanaimo, is expected to look forward to leave soon. He has been with the navy five years and with Prince Rupert two.

Lt. Andrew L. Murray, who gives Victoria as his home though he states he knows no home other than his ship, has been with the frigate since her commissioning and served aboard other naval craft prior to that time. He has been with the R.C.N.R. since 1939.

Fifty-five per cent of the present crew are ready to go with their ship into Pacific waters for the Jap war, said Cmdr. Draney. Lt.-Cmdr. Draney spoke little of his actions, but stated emphatically that he "had been fortunate enough to have one of the best

New World League Charter Ready For Ceremony of Signing Monday

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—A charter for a new world league for the maintenance of peace and security today was virtually complete, but it will not be submitted for signing by the United Nations until Monday afternoon.

No detailed reason for the postponement of the signing ceremony from tomorrow and Saturday was given, but it was reported unofficially that the Soviet delegation had asked for three days in which to submit the final draft to Moscow for approval.

While reports from the committees went rapidly through three public commission sittings Wednesday, accompanied by much oratory but no serious differences, the last major conference obstacle was hurdled when Russia accepted a compromise proposal to meet objections to the powers to be given the General Assembly.

The report of this compromise was submitted to a technical committee and the steering committee then agreed on the definite closing date.

Late Wednesday the conference president, State Secretary Stettinius, told a press conference of the postponed closing ceremony. President Truman, now enjoying a vacation at Olympia, Wash., agreed to delay his arrival here until Monday and will address the conference late Tuesday afternoon when the eight-hour signing ceremony is completed. He may also sign the charter for the United States.

MR. KING TO ATTEND

Prime Minister King and Justice Minister St. Laurent will attend on behalf of Canada.

Before the commission on the Security Council adopted its report Wednesday night, Hume

Wrong for Canada called attention to the lack of clarity in some of the clauses which might cause confusion in the future, but asked only that his remarks be placed on record.

The proposal on the General Assembly powers is as follows:
"The General Assembly has the right to discuss any questions or any matters within the scope of the charter or relating to the powers and functions of any organ provided in the charter, and except as provided in paragraph 2 (b) of this section, to make recommendations to the members of the United Nations or to the Security Council or both on any such questions or matters."

(The exception referred to restrains the Assembly from dealing with matters then in the hands of the peace-enforcing Security Council.)

BROAD DISCUSSION

H. V. Evatt, Australian Minister of External Affairs, told a press conference this arrangement provides "a very broad, fair, comprehensive power of discussion" for the assembly. It even can talk about promoting full employment, since that is mentioned in the charter, he said.

Dr. Evatt said there was an even broader grant of discussion to the Assembly than to the Assembly of the old League of Nations. Smilingly he remarked that he had told the committee considering the question that he was afraid to say just how broad it was for fear the whole issue might be reopened.

But Andrei Gromyko of Russia, Dr. Evatt said, assured the committee the wording means just what it says—that the Assembly can debate anything within the scope of the charter.

Dr. Evatt said it was his opinion that actually this field is as large as that of international relations, to which Russia had objected. He said he couldn't

The INTERNATIONAL

The Tokyo radio broadcasting as though it had something new, deviated today from its recent fretting over imminent invasion to record that the United States has started long and complicated preparations against Japan.

That's not exactly what you would call a military secret.

Clean-up operations are proceeding throughout the Pacific while the invasion preparations go forward.

Important troop contingents, released by the victory in Europe,
will begin to arrive soon.

From past performances we can expect the staging period to last for several months. Then, because of the distance from Luzon, the only staging area the Allies now have which is capable of supporting millions of men, it may be necessary to choose another staging area, so to speak, in Japan proper.

This would involve capture of some outer area which could be filled with the necessary strength for the climactic attack against the heart of Honshu. This would be comparable with the establishment of the Normandy beachhead and the subsequent breakout toward Germany, except that in the Japanese islands it might take on more of the aspects of two separate invasions and therefore require more time. It could work like the Salerno-Anzio hop in Italy, or could involve taking one of the small islands before Honshu is attempted.

Take it that several months will be consumed in invasion preparation, that the campaign in Japan will take longer than the one in Europe because it probably will be divided into two major steps, and we have a war which, discounting the possibility of a political termination, will run us well into 1947.

U.S. May Ship War Goods Via Vancouver

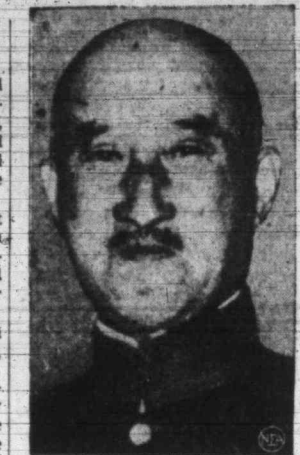

SEATTLE (AP)—Maj. Howard
MacDonald, Seattle port of embarkation officer, said Vancouver, B.C., waterfront facilities would be used on a trial basis to speed shipments of war goods to the Pacific front.

The major said the Seattle port was not "clogged" and the main reason for the test from Vancouver was to make use of all facilities possible to speed war shipments.

Shipments from the Canadian port probably will begin, he said, sometime prior to Aug. 1.

Imagine any subject any country would want to bring up in the Assembly that wouldn't be covered by the scope of the charter.

Nevertheless Russia approved the compromise, and a conference committee quickly followed suit.

B.C. Man Awarded U.S. Bronze Star

By WILLIAM STEWART

WITH THE 6TH U.S. INFAN-TRY DIVISION ON LUZON

(CP)—The Bronze Star Medal has been awarded to Pte. Bernard H. Gilbert of New Westminster, B.C., for distinguished conduct in action against the Japanese at Bayanbayan.

Pte. Gilbert, whose father,
Charles F. Gilbert, lives at 2697
Telford Avenue, New Westminster, was one of a party of soldiers who volunteered to repair signal lines cut by heavy Japanese mortar bombardment. Though the group was under heavy fire from both mortars and small arms they worked for several hours until after darkness, locating and repairing breaks in the lines.

Moscow Jails 12 Accused Polish Leaders, 10 Years to 4 Months

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Twelve of 16
Polish accused of subversive activities behind Red Army lines were convicted by a Soviet court early today and given sentences of from four months to 10 years in prison. Three were acquitted and the trial of another was postponed.

The heaviest sentence — 10 years — was imposed on Maj. Gen.
L. Bronislav Okulicki, commander of the underground home army after the ill-fated Warsaw uprising.

Jan Jankowski, deputy premier of the London Polish government in exile and leader of the Polish underground movement, was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment.

The sentences will date from the day of arrest, March 27.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, said no appeal from the sentences would be permitted.)

Gen. Okulicki received his sentence stoically. His only show of emotion was a tightening of the lips as he heard the president of the military presidium, Col. Gen. Vassily V. Ulrich, read the verdict and the sentences.

Floodlights bear down on the defendants standing in the wooden dock as the sentences were read.

The shortest of the sentences were imposed on four—Stanislav Merzuya, Z. Stupulowski, J. A.
Khratsinski and F. A. Urbanski.
Expressions of great relief were on the faces of those acquitted—Stanislav F. Mikhalowski, J. H. Stember-Dombrowski and K. S. Kobylanski.

One defendant, Anton Paidak, had been too ill to attend the trial and he will face the court later.

Each of the 15 had been permitted to express his own views on what kind of government was needed in Poland and his opinions on Soviet-Polish relations.
Each defendant, advised he was speaking under the privilege of "final statements," declared friendship between Soviet Russia and Poland was most essential.

His Faculties Good As Ever Churchill Tells British Voters

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the voters in his electoral district today that his "faculties are as good as they ever have been" and asked them to re-elect him to Parliament so he might continue to serve the nation in peace as he has in war.

In a statement thanking the Woodford constituency for unswerving support, the 70-year-old
Mr. Churchill said:

"I have served you for nearly 22 years and this is the fifth time I ask for a renewal of your confidence."

"I can say with heartfelt gratitude that without your unswerving support during the 11 years
I was in the political wilderness
I should not have been in a position to be called upon to assume the supreme responsibility for guiding our country at the moment of its mortal danger. Moreover, I should not have been able to give in Parliament those warnings, which, when the moment came, were recognized to have been true by the whole British nation and empire."

"Both in the old constituency and the new, you have been through very hard and long trials."

His statement added:
"You have suffered in silence and in secrecy, making no complaint, with every man, woman and child going about his duties honestly and diligently as you were required. Your men abroad will be as proud of you when they return as you have always been of them."

"At my age, having already passed the allotted span, I might well have claimed relief from the burden which victory has not lightened. I feel, however, that my faculties and energies are as good as they have ever been.
Therefore, unless relieved by the nation, I cannot shrink from the tasks which have devolved upon me.

"I still hope to take my share in a peace which shall be both world-wide and lasting, out of which will come victories in social progress not less than those in battle for which we are already well spoken of throughout the world."

A NECESSARY CONFERENCE

PREMIERS OF ALL THE PROVINCES will have noted with considerable satisfaction that Mr. Mackenzie King has wasted no time in setting the date for a Dominion-Provincial Conference. It is to begin on August 6, to last about a week, and then to adjourn to permit further study of proposals submitted.

Numerous reconstruction and rehabilitation projects which several of the provinces have prepared—notably British Columbia—await financial arrangements with the Dominion government. Mr. King has been assailed by his critics because his administration has not shown any inclination to speed up the essential discussions; but the Prime Minister has contended all along that he should await the verdict of a general election before entering into new commitments with the provinces. He has obtained his mandate to carry on the business of the country; he and his ministers can now make their plans accordingly.

The conference which Mr. King has called will be required to deal with the whole problem of Dominion-Provincial relationships, not only of matters in their essential detail, but also with respect to taxation and inter-related finance. One has only to recall the fiasco at the beginning of 1941 to realize the nature of problems awaiting solution—which must be tackled and disposed of now the war in Europe is over and peace in the Orient may not be too long delayed.

It is to be hoped that between now and August 6 the various provinces will have their proposals in concrete form. The conference will provide a unique test of give-and-take; for the participating Premiers will represent four distinct political philosophies.

A FINE CANADIAN PASSES

IN THE BUSY OFFICES THROUGHOUT western Canada where men rush through the business of assembling, writing and editing news, veterans played yesterday to recall the active part played by Hon. Thomas Miller in advancing the efficiency of their profession. The death in a Regina hospital of the man who started his journalistic career as a "printer's devil," became the publisher of the Moose Jaw Times-Herald, and this year had been chosen as Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, ended a life that had been devoted very largely to the public service which is represented by the daily newspaper.

One of the founders of the Western Associated Press, he assisted in the organization of a news distributing agency which was the forerunner of the Canadian Press. As one of its active figures, Mr. Miller had earned the respect and thanks of all those papers which received improved coverage through its operation. His elevation to the post of Lieutenant-Governor was a distinction that carried with it recognition of his extensive public service both in municipal and broader political fields. It was a fitting tribute to a fine Canadian who was both a decoration and a credit to his profession, his province, and to Canada.

Well known in Victoria through frequent visits, the passing of Mr. Miller robs this city of a citizen who had already established residence here before being called back to Saskatchewan to accept the gubernatorial post.

NOT JUST HOUSES

THERE HAS BEEN NO CHANGE IN THE urgency of the need for new housing in this area; but there has been a change in the type of dwelling that is required. That is a point the city will no doubt keep in mind as aldermen proceed with arrangements to secure speedy erection of between 40 and 50 structures here. During the acute scarcity created by war work in this district, shelter became a matter of vital importance. Roofs were needed to protect the outsiders brought here to help build ships. In many cases the occupants of new buildings that were put up were temporary residents only, who needed a place to sleep and eat while their relatively short term jobs continued.

Now, however, the city is interested primarily in providing accommodation for returning service personnel. It is the city's natural hope that the men and women of the forces who left Victoria for the bigger job will come back to stay. For them something more than shelter is required. They are entitled to homes in the fullest sense of the term. No temporary construction is going to be sufficient for their needs. Nor will makeshift structures for their temporary occupancy be suitable later for the housing of elderly citizens.

The continuing and increasing scarcity of houses here and the element of speed required to relieve the situation, will probably be a determining factor in simplifying design. But the city and those interested in financing construction will surely give consideration to the desirability and necessity of creating something better than four walls and a roof for returning servicemen and their families. Home is more than that.

MOSCOW SENTENCES

THE VERDICTS AND SENTENCES IM-posed by the Moscow court on Polish underground leaders will inject a new element into the general public's consideration of Soviet ways. There had been, on this continent, a disposition to assume that events of the nature which transpired in the Soviet capital were mere formalities preceding the inevitable liquidation of persons whom the Russians considered enemies of the state. That is an assumption which may be altered in the light of the relatively mild prison terms imposed on most of those who were convicted and in view of the acquittal of three who stood trial.

There may be an indication of a new Russian trend, too, in the explanation given by Maj.-Gen. Nikolai Afanasiev of the prosecution's decision not to seek the death penalty. That course was prompted by the fact that "we are now living through days of joyous victory and the Soviet nation is mightier than it ever was," he said. The opinion may reflect a change in the attitude of a nation which has, until recently, been inclined to suspect countries beyond its boundaries of enmity. Secure now in its proven strength and influenced by its broader concept of international organization, Russia doubtless feels less vulnerable and can afford a greater leniency than it once showed against others whose activities were considered threats to the safety of the Soviet regime.

THE PEOPLE DID IT

EVEN THE MOST RABID JOURNALIS-tic critic of Mr. Mackenzie King might contrive to accept the verdict of the people with something akin to good grace. But one or two newspapers seem to be experiencing considerable difficulty in accommodating themselves to the fact that the combined civilian and soldier vote did, after all, allocate nearly 120 seats in the next House of Commons to the party over which the Prime Minister presides.

While Tory editorialists are preening themselves in the knowledge that the straight Liberal following will not be able to command a majority they forget that several independents—largely government supporters who discarded their labels for the duration of the election campaign—will vote with Mr. King on major issues. The Vancouver Daily Province, however, seems quite delighted with the "strange irony in the fate which sends Mr. Mackenzie King back to power in Canada but denies him a seat in the House of Commons," and says:

"Now Mr. Bracken can return the Prime Minister's many jibes. He has a seat and Mr. King has none. Six times Prince Albert accepted Mr. King as its member, but on the seventh said 'No.' The civilians were willing to re-endorse the Prime Minister, but the soldiers refused. Now Mr. King will have to go on his travels again."

This is flimsy argument with a vengeance. How does the temporary situation in which the Prime Minister finds himself furnish his chief opponent with any ground from which to return jibes? And surely our contemporary has not forgotten that Mr. Bracken was "on his travels" round the country for nearly two and a half years without any attempt, until a few weeks ago, to find a seat to justify his leadership in the only place where leadership counts.

And is it any more strange that the soldier vote in the Prince Albert constituency should have "refused" Mr. King reelection than it is that that province chose to send only one Conservative to the next Parliament to the Liberal Party's two? Will our Vancouver contemporary see any "strange irony in the fate" that the party which it so ardently supports came third in the total soldier vote? Or that the Liberals collected 31,007 more of these service ballots than Mr. Bracken's party? Or that the C.C.F. polled 22,000 more of the "uniform" votes than the Tories? Or that the Socialists of Socialist Saskatchewan won 18,389 soldier votes compared with the Liberals' 7,314 and the Conservatives' 4,411?

The trouble with the Vancouver Province and one or two more newspapers is that an intense dislike of Mr. Mackenzie King, his government and all its works, has robbed them of their sense of proportion. But they will have to get used to the idea that the people of Canada, after all, have spoken. They did not elect to "Win With Bracken."

FARM SUBSIDIES

FARMERS ARE LOOKING AHEAD WITH some trepidation to the days when the federal treasury may cut off its subsidies to production. The primary purpose of these subsidies was to stimulate production by raising the market price above the controlled level and thus compensate the farmer for the increased costs of production without penalizing the consumer. Since 1939 this policy has cost the taxpayers $319,127,144. But if the market price had not been controlled it would have extracted considerably more and added to the inflationary influences of war.

The difficulty of adjustment is obvious. The costs of farm production, even of the same crops in the same area and under similar circumstances, varies enormously. They depend so much on individual ability and knowledge, facilities for labor and seasons. High wages in the cities attract rural labor from the farm to the urban areas. The cost of living in the cities is raised and accommodation is cramped. If the farmer cannot make what he regards as a fair profit on his production over and above his subsistence, he will seek work elsewhere and production will be reduced. Subsidies during the war are a means to an end; but in peace they may entail a price-controlled market which would set in motion a whole set of integrated factors that would be conducive neither to the farmer's nor the taxpayer's peace of mind.

Isn't time silly? When it is 3 o'clock in the morning in New York, it is 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Philippines.

SPEAKING OF MURDER

IN OPENING THIS confession I think it proper to say that I was raised in a respectable, Christian home. Every chance was given me to lead a decent life. But it was no use. I have arrived in middle-age a confirmed addict to detective stories.

This shocking habit is not unique with me. In the great spread of modern enlightenment detective stories have conquered the civilized world. With the marvels of modern mass production you can buy them for 25 cents, and for a dollar or two you can live in a world of fantasy. That is where most of us are living. And when I think of old Caxton toiling over his first hand press, imagining that he had ushered in a new era of intelligence among men, I wonder what he would think if he could return today and find what his art is used for. He would be glad, I fancy, to go back where he came from.

YOU MAY BLAME Conan Doyle for the present blight of 25-cent books, rising like a monstrous garden of evil flowers in every drug store and railway station. Personally, I blame Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are responsible for what I am and you probably are today.

When Mr. Hoover went into the White House a few people with warped minds and plenty of money bought detective stories for $1.50 or $2 and enjoyed them, like some unspeakable vice, in secret. But Mr. Hoover let it be known that after a day of struggle with the great depression he took a murder to bed with him and arose refreshed in the morning. Whereupon America became convinced that great men fed their greatness on crime. When Mr. Roosevelt admitted, unabashed, that he read shockers as a regular diet while fighting the greatest war in history, humble men everywhere assumed that the way to fame and fortune lay through oceans of gore. If one could only find the right clue one might end as president.

EVERYBODY BEGAN to read detective stories. But few of them ever got into the White House. Alas, I have found in my own case, after spending about $100 and a large part of my time in the last several years, that you can wallow in homicide and still not be another Roosevelt. Yet the legend persists and I have seen countless leaders of business poring over blood-soaked pages in Pullman cars and hotel rooms in the innocent belief that they were imbuing culture like the great. America has become one vast murder.

Myself a helpless slave to the drug I have made a few approximate calculations and concluded that if half the time spent in the pursuit of clues were devoted to the reading of the classics we would suddenly blossom forth into another golden Athenian age; class struggles would end, all social problems would disappear, enduring peace would dawn—and then we would all have time and leisure to sit back and read detective stories.

It is a solemn thought that thousands of men who know nothing of their government, nor how the economic system works, who have no idea whence their living comes nor what life is about, yet are seasoned experts in detection. They can spot a murderer at sight. They unravel the deepest mystery even though they don't know who represents them in Parliament or their own telephone numbers.

THE EFFECT of this wave of culture upon the people of America is not yet clear, but I know that in my own case it has changed my life. I used to be an innocent and rather pleasant fellow, with an abiding faith in my fellow man. Now I never meet a stranger without asking myself what murder he has committed. I never see a cigarette butt without wondering whose fatal lips have left their lipstick upon it, and usually I put it away carefully in my pocket, for it may turn out to be the missing clue. A finger-print on a window instantly arouses my deepest suspicions and, lest I leave a trail behind me, I have taken to wearing gloves.

The modern reader has to live dangerously, in constant flight and pursuit. All life has become a mystery, all one's friends are suspect, and a corpse lies behind every armchair.

YOU MAY THINK this is a pretty interesting and mysterious world, what with politics and economics and war. But you have hardly begun to live until you have learned to read the right stuff. Like the user of narcotics we readers have achieved a new kind of life. We walk and eat among ordinary men, and do our jobs and earn our daily bread, but we live elsewhere in another dimension, in one long, unending adventure. All the labor of centuries has gone into this triumph: the first printers, the toil of Chaucer and Shakespeare and thousands of unknown educators. They have slowly built this enlightened world with one magnificent result—we can buy ourselves out of it day after day for only two bits.

TOADYING TACTICS

From the Halifax Herald
Addressing a Canadian Club meeting in Toronto recently, Lawrence Hunt, prominent New York barrister paid a tribute to Britain and the Commonwealth "whose sacrifices and valor made it possible for us Americans to save our skins and our souls."

He declared that responsible Americans regard with contempt the belittlement of Britain by certain Canadians seeking to curry favor with the United States, and added:

"Those few Canadians who try to strengthen Canada's ties with America by trying to weaken Canada's loyalty to Great Britain are doing a grave disservice to the old and self-respecting friendship between Canada and the United States."

Letters To The Editor

DIPHTHERIA

The statement was recently made in the press that 9,000 children under 15 years of age had died in England and Wales during the war from diphtheria. No reference was made to the fact that over 20,000 fully immunized children have contracted the disease in the last three to four years. Under the circumstances it can hardly be claimed that the practice is 'safe and simple.'

We are constantly in receipt of statistics and information, direct from England, and keep record of the matters under discussion. An English medical man refers to the "crude," and in his opinion, "dishonest propaganda" which the Ministry of Health and other officials see fit to inflict upon an unsuspecting public.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO
By The Canadian Press
June 21, 1941—It was announced that $710,958,950 had been subscribed for Canada's

Phil Spitalny says:

with flowers by wire...

On Evelyn's birthday, Phil Spitalny was in one town. Evelyn, star violinist and concert mistress of Phil's orchestra, was in another town... miles away. But that was no problem—Phil telegraphed flowers!

In any event—wire Flowers

When someone dear to you—in another town—has a birthday, or any event you want to remember—wire flowers.

It's easy as 1-2-3, and not at all expensive

1. Go to a florist with the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association seal on his window. Tell him the name, address and town of the person to receive the flowers—state the amount you wish to spend. You pay nothing extra for flowers by wire—except standard rate for telegram.

2. Your florist wires your order and your message for the card to an F.T.D. florist in the other town who immediately delivers fresh flowers from his stock.

3. F.T.D. florists are everywhere—but not all florists are members of Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. So look for the F.T.D. Seal. It's your assurance of full value.

Listen to Evelyn and her Magic Violin featured with Phil Spitalny's All-Girl Orchestra on the General Electric "Hour of Charm" NBC, Sunday night, 10:00 P.M. E.W.T.

FLORISTS' TELEGRAPH DELIVERY ASSOCIATION

Canada Indians Ask $15,692,988; Missing in Asia

OTTAWA (CP)—A "national Indian government" which will seek to recover from the federal government a sum of $15,692,988 being held as a trust fund for the Indian nation was formed Wednesday at the conclusion of a three-day convention of 75 Indian chiefs from across Canada.

Executives appointed to handle the administration of Indian affairs include Supreme Chief, Jim Fox, Melbourne, Ont., Assistant Chief, Nichel Vachon of the Beislis Reservation in Quebec, and secretary-treasurer, Jules Sloui, Loretteville, Que.

Opposition to the formation of the administration was expressed in a minority report submitted by Chief Thomas W. Martin of the Mohawk tribe and Chief Alex Dostater of the Oneida tribe.

A proclamation issued by the new administration said the Indian nation sought exclusive rights for fishing, hunting, and trapping in all parts of North America, and rights for the manufacture of canoes, snowshoes, baskets, mocassins and woodlore. It also asked exclusive rights to the cutting of white wood, ash, cedar and birch bark for handicraft work.

It said the Indian government would become effective July 30 and June 20 was proclaimed as the Indian national holiday.

Missing in Asia

Lieut. Ian Ernest Alcock, R.C. N.V.R., navy commando, son of Capt. and Mrs. E. G. Alcock, Burnside Road, has been listed missing following recent action in southeast Asia, his wife, Beatrice, 1249 Rockland Avenue, has been advised by cable.

Educated at St. Louis College and trained in the Canadian National Merchant Marine, he enlisted in June, 1940, trained at King's College, Halifax, and was last home in December, 1941.

Summer Begins, But Christmas Only 187 Days Distant

Today is the first day of summer officially and the longest day in the year, although the experts contend that summer didn't actually begin until 1:52 p.m. P.W.T. when the sun entered the constellation of Cancer. Those who do their Christmas shopping early, and who doesn't in these days of shortages of practically everything that is acceptable as gifts, will soon have to start their rounds of the shops because there is only 187 days left until Christmas.

Because Leap-Year last year got not only the matter of who pops the question a little mixed up, there will be two extra days of artificial summer this year. Autumn, which traditionally starts September 21, has been delayed until 2:50 p.m. September 23, when the sun enters the constellation of Libra.

The weatherman has been giving Victorians summer weather well in advance of its official start, although he was niggardly with Victoria's much vaunted sunshine today. Even the temperature suffered a slight drop from Wednesday's 71 to a mere 64 degrees. He held to his forecast by giving the fresh southwesterly winds, cloudy skies and cooler weather.

Many Overseas Wives Arrive Here Today

Mrs. Marion Burkmar, who met her husband in 1939 when he went to England with the First Canadian Division of the Provost Corps, arrived in Victoria today to be met by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Burkmar, with whom she will reside at 949 Wollaston Street.

Sgt. Edward Frank Burkmar and his bride, who was a stenographer with the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service, were posted to different stations, being reunited in Italy in July, 1944, when they were married. Sgt. Burkmar is still overseas.

Also arriving today from England was Mrs. Sheila Hamilton, wife of Lieut. Marshall Hamilton, R.C.A., second anti-tank regiment. Mrs. Hamilton was met by her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton and their daughter, Muriel. Lieut. Hamilton, who was married in England in February, 1943, is expected to join his wife in July after five years overseas service.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I was married at 19 to a girl of 18. We had one child who grew up married, bore three children and died. We have reared these three grandchildren. Now, after this long siege of married life, from 19 to 87, which I am now, don't you think I am entitled to a divorce that I may enjoy single blessedness the few more months or years that I may live?

I. W.
Answer: I think that anyone who has been married 68 years is entitled to anything that they want, but what makes you think that you would be happier separated from your wife than you are with her? Doubtless, being human, she has her faults and peculiarities, but you are used to them by now and you would be very lonesome if you didn't have anybody to quarrel with and to blame for everything that went wrong.

Believe me when I tell you that the chief joy in life after we grow old is having a companion to whom we can say: "Don't you remember?"

Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, regent of Municipal Chapter, I.O.E., left Wednesday evening for Vancouver to attend a meeting of the provincial executive of the I.O.E.

Salt Spring Soldier Wins Military Medal

L. Sgt. Harry William MacKenzie Johnson, 35, R.C.C.S., Salt Spring Island, has been awarded the Military Medal for gallantry in action overseas, the Defence Department announced today.

Born at Kamloops, Johnson was employed as a radio operator on Salt Spring before enlistment as a signaller in June, 1940. He has been overseas since November, 1941. His wife, Patricia, and two daughters, Sally, eight, and Ruth, six, reside on Salt Spring.

His citation reads in part: "The unbounded energy, enthusiasm and coolness under fire, displayed by this non-commissioned officer has been an inspiration to all ranks, and his efforts to maintain constant communications are worthy of the highest recognition."

He was cited for his actions of Sept. 2, 1944, when he kept communications open under extreme difficulties and intense enemy fire during an advance near Tomba Di Pesaro, Italy.

Laval to Surrender When Defence Ready

MADRID (AP)—Pierre Laval, former Vichy Chief of Government, who fled to Spain shortly before the German collapse, has promised to surrender voluntarily to French justice when he completes preparations for his defence, it was learned on good authority today.

Laval's offer was said to have been made in a letter to the Spanish government.

Among the Victorians who were Mentioned in Dispatches in the King's Birthday Honors last week was F.L.T. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Dawson, 10 Douglas Street. F.L.T. Dawson, who attended Victoria schools and was graduated from University of Nevada in mechanical engineering, enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in 1941 after he had attended the Boeing School of Aeronautics in Oakland, Cal. He has been overseas three years. He is a junior member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

'Desert Rats' Home

LONDON (CP)—The first party of Britain's famed "Desert Rats"—300 men of the 8th Army which fought its way from El Alamein to Austria—arrived home Wednesday on leave after a 1,000-mile truck ride across Europe. Most of the sunburned veterans of the desert push of 1942, and Sicily and Italy, are seeing England for the first time in four years.

NORWICH—Blacksmiths in Norfolk and Suffolk are being offered subsidies to train apprentices in the old-fashioned art of horseshoeing.

Mayhew Officially Re-elected With 364 Margin; No Recount

R. W. Mayhew, Victoria Liberal member of the House of Commons since 1937, was declared re-elected at 4:50 Wednesday afternoon by Sydney Child, returning officer, after an official totaling of 35,814 ballots cast by the 43,791 electors of the riding which includes Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and a small section of Saanich.

This is the official count:

	Civilian Vote	Service Vote	Total
Mayhew	10,509	1,297	11,806
Drayton	10,611	831	11,442
Bryce	9,018	1,231	10,249
Culhane	992	75	1,066
Loughheed	737	56	793
Rejected ballots			238
Total	31,867	3,490	35,814

The count Wednesday brought to a close a 10-day period of speculation during which the result of the Victoria poll swung in a balance while speculation was rife on how 3,490 Victoria service men and women had voted.

ERRORS CUT LEAD

Errors in reporting totals were responsible for the gain of Sir Henry. Mr. Mayhew dropped 10 votes; while F.O. Burray Bryce, C.C.F., lost 103; Garry Culhane, Labor Progressive, gained 19, and M. F. Loughheed, Social Credit, gained one.

F.O. Bryce's big loss was in one Esquimalt polling division, where the total number of votes cast was reported, instead of ballots cast for him.

Rejected ballots totaled 238, which was considered high. Mr. Child, however, had instructed his representatives at the 180 polling stations to reject ballots when in doubt.

Deposits of $200, each made by Mr. Culhane and Mr. Loughheed, will be confiscated, since they failed to poll half the votes received by the winning candidate.

No recount will be demanded by the Progressive Conservatives, since were Sir Henry to win all the rejected ballots, which is unlikely, he could still not equal Mr. Mayhew's lead. It was felt a number of the rejected ballots would be accepted were a recount held, because many represented the votes of deputy returning officers and poll clerks.

C.C.F. scrutineers at a number of polling stations objected to deputies and clerks voting, contending that they were disqualified, since they were employed by the government for their election duties. Mr. Child said provision in the Elections Act had been made to pay scrutineers and poll clerks, and to have them vote, if necessary, in another division.

The official count of the Dominion election June 11 narrowed Mr. Mayhew's margin from 410 in the preliminary civilian and service polls to 364 over Sir Henry Drayton, Progressive Conservative candidate, who in the civilian polls won a 56-vote majority over Mr. Mayhew.

In some cases where the C.C.F. objected, the deputies and poll clerks cast ballots and then inserted them in the rejected ballot envelope instead of counting them with the valid ballots.

81% VOTED

Victoria set a record with 81.8 per cent of the enfranchised citizenry turning out at the polls. The voters' list was the longest in the riding's history, with 43,791 names, compared with 35,360 for the 1940 federal election.

In 1940 only 69 per cent of those authorized to vote went to the polls to cast ballots.

Bella Coola Valley Flooded By Rivers

BELLA COOLA, B.C. (CP)—Hayfields and gardens were flooded in the Bella Coola valley as constant heavy rainfall caused the Snootshy and Main Rivers to rise eight feet above their normal levels.

Children in the Hagensborg district were given a pre-summer holiday Wednesday when the school bus was unable to get through because of the flooded condition of the roads.

Bella Coola old timers reported this to be the first time they remembered a flood occurring at this time of the year.

Names of Famous Canadian Units Perpetuated in Pacific Force

OTTAWA (CP)—Famous fighting names of ten 1st Canadian Infantry Division regiments which served in the Mediterranean and western Europe will be perpetuated in Canada's 6th Pacific Division of 30,000 men.

Gen. Bert M. Hoffmeister of Vancouver will lead against the Japanese, it was announced here.

Western units include:

The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry of Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria.

The Loyal Edmonton Regiment of Edmonton.

The Saskatoon Light Infantry of Saskatoon.

The Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver.

It was reliably reported a month ago that the army had decided to use 1st Division names as they seemed to be the fairest geographical representation.

Recently it was officially announced that the division would be composed of regiments with geographical affiliations, but no names were mentioned.

REGIMENTAL HEADS

When Gen. Hoffmeister returned to Canada recently he was accompanied by a staff that included the commanders of some of the regiments.

They included Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone of Blueberry Mountain, Alta., of the Loyal Edmonton.

Also with General Hoffmeister was Lt.-Col. S. W. Thomson of Salmon Arm, B.C., of the Royal Highland Regiment (Black Watch) of Montreal. Presumably Col. Thomson will switch to command of one of the other regiments in the 6th.

Gen. Hoffmeister told a press conference his staff was hand-picked and "an all-star team."

It includes two western brigadiers: John M. Rockingham of Victoria, former commander of the 9th Brigade of the 3rd Infantry Division, and Arthur E. Winch of Vancouver, Chief Signals Officer of the 1st Corps.

WIDE REPRESENTATION

In an announcement June 11 defence headquarters said that as far as possible personnel would be posted to units representing their particular territorial affiliation.

Today's announcement said: "The decision to adopt the titles of regiments with long records of service in the European theatre will enable the division to wear distinctive regimental badges and flashes which have been recognized by Canadian fighting men throughout the war. The selection provides for a Canada-wide representation, each military district being represented. It is also possible to make provision for two Scottish units in keeping with established Canadian army custom."

"As previously announced the American system of numerical designation will also be used to avoid confusion in operational orders and planning. The units will therefore have both a numerical and regimental designation."

"Other arms of the force such as the Royal Canadian Artillery and the Royal Canadian Engineers will also be representative of the various parts of Canada, but in accordance with long established custom will use only their corps titles."

Electrical Workers Consider Reports

Electrical workers, meeting Tuesday at Woodsworth Hall, under the chairmanship of A. E. Bevan, discussed a report by L. Rands, delegate to the recent conference on penal reform, held in the Empress Hotel. Mr. Rands outlined the difficulties confronting persons discharged from penal institutions and the improbability of their being able to lead normal lives after having served jail sentences.

Other speakers stressed the fact that want and insecurity were the main causes of crime, and said radical changes in the economic system are necessary to remove these causes.

Appointment of R. D. Lemmex by the Minister of Labor to act as conciliator in the union's negotiations with Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities was reported.

W. Ayton was elected a delegate to the V.M.D. Foremen's Club conference on shipbuilding, to be held in the Empress Hotel.

A recreation committee, consisting of Misses A. Pohl, R. Churchill, Messrs. J. Kuper, C. McPherson and C. Tomlinson was appointed to provide for future social activities.

Seven new members were initiated, Misses I. Vestby, M. Marston, D. Blakey, S. Ash and Messrs. J. Mollison, E. Tippet and T. Garner.

"QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT SHOT-FROM-GUNS IS MY IDEA OF MIGHTY GOOD EATIN'" says GARY COOPER

PRODUCER and CO-STAR OF "ALONG CAME JONES" with LORETTA YOUNG (An International Picture)

GARY: "Food shot from guns"? Say, you sure got yourself a famous line there, Mr. Quaker.

QUAKER MAN: Yes, Gary, those words are familiar everywhere. But then, you see, "shot-from-guns" makes the world's tastiest, ready-to-eat cereal. We load up giant guns with choice grains of wheat—then BANG! BANG! they explode big glorified grains, 8 times normal size—so crisp, so tender, everyone loves them.

GARY: They certainly appeal to me.

QUAKER MAN: Another thing, Gary, Quaker Puffed Wheat is easily digested, too. It gives quick food energy, which is especially important at the start of the day. What other breakfast could give you the nourishment of wheat and be so delicious.

SOUTHSEA—Nelson's famous flagship, H.M.S. Victory, which was damaged during an air raid on Portsmouth dockyard, has been put back on public exhibition.

Home Shortly

Capt. George Little, son of G. Little, Royal Jubilee Hospital, is expected to arrive here from overseas service in a few days time. He attended Cloverdale School, Mount View High School, Saanich, and was a member of the Cathedral choir before enlistment. Overseas four years, he has seen service in Italy, France, Holland and Germany. His father is a veteran of the Spanish American War in 1898 and also of the Great War.

Island Trade Boards Urge Development Of Elk Falls Power

NANAIMO (CP)—By a standing vote of 19 to 2, the 1945 annual convention of Vancouver Island Affiliated Boards of Trade here Wednesday night urged the provincial government to take immediate steps to develop Elk Falls electric power and to transmit such power to centres on Vancouver Island.

Originally a Comox-Courtenay resolution, the issue aroused lengthy discussion from sectional delegates who wished to congratulate the government for its recent pronouncements and decisions, but were unwilling to endorse the Elk Falls project as the most feasible solution.

All delegates congratulated the government for its decision to go ahead at once with an integral scheme for supplying Vancouver Island with much needed power, urging haste to meet present demands of a domestic and industrial nature which cannot be met until new power is provided.

The projected Elk Falls plan would provide for a 50,000 horsepower development to cost around $15,000,000. The Nanaimo River proposal would provide 12,000 horsepower and cost less than a third of the larger scheme, and consequently provide local power much earlier than the five years suggested as essential for the larger scheme.

The convention voiced appreciation to the government for a recent announcement that a west coast road link via Sproat and Kennedy Lakes to Tofino, Uclulet and Clayoquot would be undertaken as a postwar road.

Victoria Man Named Seed Growers' Director

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—A. M. Stewart of Ailsa Craig, Ont., was elected president, and Howard P. Wright of Aldrie, Alta., vice-president, at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association here Wednesday. Directors nominated by provincial agricultural departments include R. Whitman, Winnipeg; S. H. Vigor, Regina; A. M. Wilson, Edmonton, and W. H. Robertson, Victoria.

Gets Commendation

Recipient of the King's Commendation for Valuable Service in the Air in the King's Birthday Honors List, Flt. Lt. W. Thompson, is one of district's outstanding athletes. Son of Mrs. Mary T. Thompson, James Island, where he was born, he competed with the Y.M.C.A. track team here during high school days and will be competing in the police meet July 2 in Vancouver. He won the grand aggregate in the local Highland games events in 1943 and has made a name for himself in the R.C.A.F. sports. He was a member of the Oak Bay police department before enlistment. Married, his wife, Ruth, and baby daughter live at Mount Tolmie.

LONDON—Wing Cmdr. James Brindley Nicolson, first Victoria Cross fighter pilot of the war, is reported missing and believed killed in India air operations. His home was at Tadcaster, Yorkshire.

Need 150 Jobs For Disabled Men

Jobs for disabled veterans, housing and vocational training were the main topics discussed at Citizens' Rehabilitation Council meeting.

C. H. Lowden of the employment sub-committee recommended a survey of jobs for handicapped returned men take place immediately. He said that Victoria would probably have a surplus of labor before other cities.

"We need from 100 to 150 such positions," said F. B. McConnell, council vice-president and acting chairman. "I would recommend the casualty officer of the Department of Veterans' Affairs obtain full knowledge of jobs available. In this way he would know how to place veterans on their discharge from hospital."

Maj. S. H. O'Kell said that there are jobs suitable for all disabled veterans. C. A. Mudge pointed out that a special placement section at Selective Service is also looking after handicapped men.

Reporting for the women's sub-committee Mrs. Nancy Hodges said that 523 returned men and women are now in vocational training in B.C. There are 103 women taking this training.

Mrs. Hodges said that a great number of rehabilitated women are interested in commercial work, social service and nursing and that not one had been willing to go into domestic service. Some are studying to be dress-makers, furriers or florists and several are now training in industry. She emphasized need of publicizing the fact that the Department of Veterans' Affairs is ready to outline all such courses to veterans.

G. H. Walton said that at least 250 houses are now under construction in the city and that 300 permits would be granted by fall. Biggest difficulty, he said, was to obtain sufficient labor and supplies to complete homes for veterans.

C. P. Colville, retiring secretary, announced that the council would be granted registration under the War Charities Act, according to word from the Department of National War Services at Ottawa.

So-Ed to Camp

At least 60 members of the So-Ed Club are expected to attend the club week-end at Camp Thunderbird, Lake Gliz, June 30 to July 2.

Leaving Victoria Saturday afternoon in a truck motorcade the group will have an amateur entertainment and barn dance that night. The music will be provided by men from the R.C.A.F.

A chapel service will be held

Sunday morning, and it will be conducted by one of the club members. In the afternoon a program of water sports and softball is scheduled, to be followed in the evening by a pow-wow and camp fire.

A climb of Shepherd's Mountain and a picnic lunch there will feature Monday's program. After the party's return to camp there will be an early supper before the drive back to Victoria.

LONDON—The R.A.F. has decided to adopt the knot and the nautical mile as the standard measurement for speed and distance, "when circumstances make it convenient and practical."

"We're trying to help you get your share of Borden's Eagle Brand!"

"We—your grocer and Borden's—wish we could supply you with all the Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk you want."

"But the Allied nations require vast quantities of the vital sugar and dairy products which are used in making Eagle Brand. Thus we still are limited to making only the same quantity of this product as we made in 1941."

"However, Borden's is doing everything possible to distribute available supplies of Eagle Brand equitably to grocers from coast to coast."

"Knowing how Eagle Brand is valued, grocers too, are trying to see that each customer gets a fair share."

When knights rode forth in their shining armor, it was common for them to carry crests of one kind or another on their helmets. One might have the crest of an eagle resting on his helmet. Another might have a lion or some other animal there.

Even before the Middle Ages opened in Europe, there were Greek and Roman soldiers who wore crests. These were plumes of feathers or tufts of hair which were coming to their helmets.

With the fastening of the days of chivalry and knighthood, a special reason arose for wearing crests. Helms were made with a face covering, and it was hard, if not impossible, to tell who was wearing them. To meet this problem, a knight was likely to use his own special type of crest when he went into battle or into a tournament.

Crests were worn more often than crests. In fact, the crowds were watching, than in actual fighting on the battlefield.

Wood was used in making some of the crests for knights. Other crests were made of leather.

Leopards were among the animals most often chosen for crests. Fire-breathing dragons also appeared as crests, and so did foxes and wolves.

There was a knight from the full force

One Woman's Day...

A CANADIAN FLAG

EVER SINCE I came to this country over 30 years ago, I have been hearing periodical outbursts—spoken and written—on the subject of a Canadian flag.

Native sons and daughters have been untiring in their efforts to secure a distinctive official emblem for this Dominion. On the other hand, there are those citizens—equally energetic and vociferous—who resent any suggestion of displacing the Union Jack.

Having been born in England and lived in Canada more than half of my life, I can see both sides.

AT SAN FRANCISCO

BUT MY recent experience at San Francisco confirms my belief that the time is long overdue for this Dominion to have its own distinctive flag.

There you saw an array of flags of 46 nations at the opening ceremonies. The Union Jack was, of course, distinctive from all of the others, as was the Stars and Stripes of our neighbor to the south.

But it was enlightening to sit among Americans—and people of other nations—and hear them discuss the flags, and realize how a commonplace to hear them wondering what country the red flag with the shield in the corner represented.

And when I overheard such a question I immediately explained that it was Canada's.

THE RED ENSIGN

MANY OF those people were sufficiently interested to ask the why and wherefore of our Canadian emblem.

At which I explained that it was the red ensign of the British maritime service, imposed with the Canadian coat of arms.

Those Canadians who adhere to the belief that Canada should retain the Union Jack as its symbol should have been at that conference.

They would have realized that it would have looked odd to say the least of it if Canada had been the only nation which hadn't its own flag, and so had to duplicate Britain's.

OFFICIAL SYMBOL

SO I, for one, was glad to see that the familiar red ensign, adapted to Canadian use, had its proud place among that imposing and colorful array.

Its inclusion seemed to give the official cachet to the need for something distinctive for this country—a recognition that Canada has grown up.

For, like other daughters, the time has now come for her to have her own dress; rather than "hand-me-downs"—however grand and glorious those may be.

And no one will dispute the proud and glorious traditions attaching to that grand old flag, the Union Jack.

FOR PROUD CANADIANS

BUT IT HAS long been necessary for Canada to fly its own flag over its embassies and legations in distant fields.

And who would dispute the right of Canadian heroes in Victory processions to carry a flag which will show the world that they hail from this proud Dominion?

So why not give full official status to a flag of our own?

But the next question is what shall be the design?

For, as with "O Canada," no two groups of people seem to be able to agree on the version.

TWO SCHOOLS OF THOUGHT
THERE ARE some who favor the retention of the red ensign, but want the Union Jack in one corner.

Others like the use of the Canadian coat of arms on the red background—as was used at San Francisco.

During controversies in the past I have heard advocates who want maple leaves and others who want beavers in the design.

But a more recent suggestion by a Winnipeg correspondent who was at San Francisco certainly does not meet with my approval.

WHITE FOR SNOW
FOR HIS IDEA is a golden maple leaf on a field of snow.

I'm all in favor of the maple leaf, but when he goes on to explain that the white background is "to convey the snowy winters of Canada," my Victoria pride revolts.

This Dominion has been labelled long enough by well-intentioned visitors who label us with titles like "Our Lady of the Snows."

It is that which gives people in other countries the impression that we are an Arctic race, almost condemned to live in igloos for the greater part of the year.

FOR YOUNG ARTISTS
NO, THE WHITE field of snow might be suitable as symbolic of Winnipeg and points east, but it certainly wouldn't apply to this green and lovely west.

So why not compromise, and have some green, some white in the background, with the maple leaf in a deep shade of gold?

Or, better still, why not encourage the young artists of Canada to put their talents to the test.

Why not institute a Dominion-wide competition for the best design for a Canadian flag—and leave the choice to a committee of Dominion-wide composition?
